Jennifer is a professional speaker, author and corporate trainer. She has served over 100 organizations over the past 14 years in Leadership, Communication and Teamwork. With previous management experience she brings focus on bottom line results to her inspiring keynotes and educational seminars.

Not only is Jennifer a qualified Myers-Briggs[®] trainer, but uniquely offers this topic as a keynote speech. Her Masters in Organization Development at USF and thesis on the validity of the Myers-Briggs[®] Team Report, place her as a top choice for speaking to organizations on improving communication in the workplace. Her main keynote for convention openers, "Running Toward Your Dream," has a WOW finale that most people will remember for years.
